Report for 1914-15.

FOR the Association, the past year has been uneventful.

It was impossible to arrange for a Social meeting in the Autumn owing to the pressure of other engagements on everybody's time, consequent upon the War.

The Annual Business Meeting was held on Saturday, March 6th, 1915. Miss Macdonald, the President, in the chair. Miss Hollings and thirteen other members were present. The Treasurer's statement showed a balance in hand of £59 5s. 9d. This balance was due to the unexpended interest on the Grove-Morison bequest; but on the ordinary income of the Association there is a deficit of £3 8s. 6d. The Treasurer reported great difficulty in getting subscriptions paid up.

The Trustees of the Grove-Morison bequest reported that since the end of the financial year, a grant of £15 had been made to enable a student to continue in residence at the Hall and to pursue her course of study. The Committee and Officers were re-elected with the exception of Mrs. Colman, who retired from the post of Secretary, which she had held since 1899. Miss Buer was elected in her place. A vote of thanks was passed to Mrs. Colman for her services as Secretary, and she was unanimously elected a Vice-President of the Association.

A grant of £10 was made to the Bungalow and it was agreed to present a Challenge Cup to the Rifle Club.

The BUNGALOW continues to be a source of great pleasure and benefit to the Students who use it for week-ends. It is open for the greater part of the year and Old Students may enjoy the privilege of staying there as well as the present students. (For charges see p. 4.)

A grant of £5 from the Grove-Morison Fund was made by the Trustees to a former student in bad health, who had had unforeseen expenses and was in temporary difficulty.

Several members of the Association have been doing distinguished service in connection with the War.

Dr. Florence Stoney went to Belgium shortly after the outbreak of hostilities, with a hospital under the direction of Mrs. Stobart. This unit did good service in Antwerp until the fall of that city compelled them to retire. Subsequently Dr. Stoney took charge of a hospital for British and French sick and wounded soldiers, established in a chateau near Cherbourg.

Dr. Hazel Cuthbert accompanied Dr. Louisa Garrett Anderson and Dr. Flora Murray with the Women's Hospital Corps which was established at Claridge's Hotel, Paris, under the auspices of the French Red Cross. An extension of this hospital was, later on, established at Wimereux, near Boulogne. Although this Corps was not recognised at the outset by the British War Office its excellent work and admirable organisation soon won for it the full approval of the highest medical military authorities on both sides of the Channel, an approval expressed in the warmest terms by Sir Alfred Keogh, Director General of the Army Medical Service, at a recent meeting in support of the extension scheme of the London School of Medicine for Women. These Women's Military Hospitals were greatly encouraged and supported by a visit during January from Miss Aldrich-Blake.

Miss Kemp is working in a French Hospital at Arc-en-Barrois and Dr. Frances Ivens is with a Scottish unit of medical women at Asnières. Miss O'Donnell Welsh is Interpreter, and Miss May Wilson, Secretary, at the Hon. Mrs. Eustace Fiennes' Hospital for French wounded at Dunkirk.

Several members of the Association are engaged in Red Cross work in this country.

Miss Dibblee is teaching English to Belgian refugees at the Earl's Court Refugees' camp. An account of her work will be found on p. 11.

Mrs. Sidgwick has published a novel, In Other Days (Methuen).

The College Hall Rifle Club Report.

The Rifle Club has now entered upon its second year and has seventeen members, several of whom have become excellent shots.

During the Christmas Term we shot two post matches, v. Ham and Petersham L.R.C. (eight a side), losing the first but winning the second match.

The Christmas Term's Prizes for the best eight targets were won by Miss Tomlinson in Class A and Miss Lucas in Class B.

Seven members entered for the Marylebone Rifle Club Christmas Handicap Shoot and secured the 4th, 5th, 8th, 17th, 24th, 28th, and 57th places out of 77.

During the present Term we have joined with the Marylebone L.R.C. to provide a team for two matches, v. Ham and Petersham L.R.C., and of the eight members of the team we supplied six in the first and seven in the second match.

Two members (Miss Tomlinson and Miss Daintree) also filled vacancies in an M.R.C. men's team v. Marshall & Snelgrove's R.C.

In February a Handicap Competition for Members of Class A was won by Mrs. Tribe.

We beg to thank all those Members of the Council who have kindly consented to become Patrons of the Club and for their generous help in subscriptions and donations which has enabled us to provide four rifles for the use of Members.

Our thanks are also due for the courtesy and consideration always shown to us by the Hon. Secretary and Members of the Marylebone R.C.—to the Sergeant for his valuable help in instructing members, and above all to our Captain, Miss Tomlinson, for her coaching and for her great interest in the Club which contributes in so large a measure to its success.

R. V. NORTON,

Hon. Secretary.

March 4th 1915.

The Rosa Morison House of Recovery.

Old Students who had the privilege of knowing Miss Morison will be glad to hear that the House of Recovery at New Barnet is doing work in every way worthy of such a memorial.

It was opened, as a branch of the New Hospital for Women, in August, 1913, in a charming house surrounded by beautiful grounds. At first there were sixteen beds but since the war began, two extra beds have been added. Patients from the New Hospital are sent down in an ambulance as soon as they are fit to be moved, to complete their recovery in the peaceful surroundings of the Rosa Morison House. A more appropriate memorial to Miss Morison could not be imagined.

A Working Guild helps to meet some of the needs of the House of Recovery. Any student wishing to keep Miss Morison's memory green could not do better than join this Guild. Full information can be obtained from Miss Wigram, The Grange, Northaw, Potter's Bar.

Work among the War Refugees.

To anyone visiting it, the Refugee Camp at Earl's Court is a sight never to be forgotten. The exhibition grounds are an incongruous setting for a tragedy, the gaudy facades, scenery hanging in strips, the silent water shute, a cinematograph theatre transformed into a chapel, the arena a dining hall for 4,000 people, the seating space around filled with beds, every available space, including a railway bridge, used for dormitories—and above all, the refugees. They sit about in groups in the big hall, they lounge, they smoke and play cards, they stare in front of them and brood. What else is there for them to do? This is the problem we workers are trying to deal with.

In the early days it was different. I was working at Alexandra Palace, the largest receiving depôt in the early days of the forced immigration. I was there, when after the fall of Antwerp the numbers rose from 1,200 to 5,000 in one week; one morning we found 4,000 new arrivals to be housed. The problem then was to feed, lodge, clothe and pass them on. Now things have changed. It is no longer possible to despatch them so quickly and we have time to consider their future. The Belgians are an industrious hard-working people, but with nothing to do they deteriorate quickly, and for months they have been living in hopeless idleness. How are we to find occupation for them?

Once the authorities grasped this, they set to work to remedy it. A Labour Bureau was opened and work was found for as many as possible. Artisans, mechanics, men understanding agriculture are in great demand. Meanwhile, to occupy the changing population, work-rooms, with materials for sewing and knitting were opened for the women, though it is difficult to keep them going for want of funds, class-rooms with lessons in the morning and play in the afternoon for children, these presided over by a marvellously patient teacher, himself a refugee. Miss Packard, an old College Hall Student, helps in this work. These schemes were well started, when, there being a lull at Alexandra Palace, I offered to work at the camp. Lady Downes, the very able head of the voluntary workers, suggested I should start something for the men, beginning with English classes.

The first fortnight was discouraging. I had an average of two to five pupils, seldom the same for more than three days. But we persevered.

We were given a small room—we have since moved twice to larger and still larger premises—begged books, and a supply of newspapers and started a sort of club. The only attractions we could offer were English lessons every morning and a quiet room for work the rest of the day, only regular members of the class being admitted and no smoking or cards allowed.

The scheme has prospered. We have a band of teachers, three lessons a day for pupils in different stages. Our attendance varies from twenty-five to forty a day, according to the departures and arrivals at the camp. The men manage the Club with a committee elected by themselves, and keep order. Lately I have started to help those men who are unable to get work, to find posts, and have been far more successful than I dared hope. The progress made in English is remarkable, though I am afraid a trained teacher would be horrified by our want of method. But what can we do with a constantly changing set of pupils? We aim more at getting to know the men, keeping up their courage and their self-respect. The more educated the man, the greater is his despair at being penniless, homeless and facing an unknown future? To my teachers I owe much, and if we have some difficulties, we have many encouragements, chief among them is the spirit we see in the men, their gratitude and their response to sympathy. They told one teacher that the worst day in camp is Sunday—there is nothing to do, and “no one comes to give an English lesson.” So we face the future, pupils and teachers alike, with courage and patience and such hope as we can find till a brighter day dawns.

B. M. DIBBLEE.
